“ They Will Possess the Earth

Allow me to express my deepest condolences on the loss of your loved one. Oftentimes when we lose someone in death, it makes us wonder what happens to them when they die. The Bible says: “The righteous themselves will possess the earth, and they will reside forever upon it.” (Psalm 37:9-11; Proverbs 2:21, 22) What a glorious time that will be! “Death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore.” (Revelation 21:4) Even dead ones will live again, and the entire inhabited earth will be transformed into a literal paradise.—Isaiah 11:6-9; 35:1, 2; Luke 23:43; Acts 24:15. I hope you can gain some measure of comfort from these words during your time of distress. Let the God of all comfort be with you through your time of need.

“ Sometimes memories bring comfort and make us smile, But there are times when grief takes over for a while; our friends offer gentle words and prayers to console, and tell us what has happened to your loving soul; Is it enough when they say death has given you relief? Can we believe what others say of a better place, where our beloved ones rest in God’s warm embrace. We are happy you’re free of pain and sorrow, but we are still so heartbroken. We love you Jane.
